Fresh Air Frolic 26th Division. 102d Infantry of the

A delightful entertainment called the "East Side Frolic of 1922" was given last night at the Waldorf-Astoria by young women of society for the benefit of the Stepney Fresh Air Farm and Women and Girls' Club of the East Side House Settlement, of this city. A novelty of the frolic was the appearance of young women in costume as animated advertisements, under the leadership of Miss Katherine Mackay, Among those who appeared with her were Miss Katherine Bliss, Miss Barbara Brokaw, Miss Tatine Bliss, Miss Betty Jackson, Miss Adele Hammond, Miss Sheila Burden, Miss Chroise de Rham, Miss Clare Rynders, Miss Melissa Yuille, Miss Janet Croll, Wiss Helen Lee, Miss Mary Strange. "East Side Frolic of 1922" was Miss Helen Lee, Miss Mary Strange, Miss Helen Lee, Miss Mary Strange,
Miss Katherine Van Ingen, Miss
Katherine Kent, Miss Harriet Pratt,
Miss Gwendolin Coombe, Miss Marie
La Marche, Miss Clara Lee, Miss Margaret Flint, Miss Lee Dodge, Miss
Beatrice Batterman, Mrs. L. Stuart
Wing, Mrs. S. Bryce Wing, Mrs. John
Munroe, Mrs. Casimir de Rham, Mrs.
Seth Low and Mrs. Robert A. Lovett.
There was a cabaret, in which Miss
There was a cabaret, which was a cabaret was a

Miss Dorothy Barnard to Wed Miss Dorothy Barnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Barnard, of 152 West Seventy-second Street and East Orange, N. J., will be married to Rockwell Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Barnard, of Lorraine.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Barnard, of 152 West Seventy-second Street and East Orange, N. J., will be married to Rockwell Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen have returned from the South and are at the Hotel St. Regis until they go to their home in Tuxedo Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen have returned from the South and are at the Hotel St. Regis until they go to their home in Tuxedo Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart Pettit, of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart Pettit, of Hempstead, L. I., are at the Ambassador Hotel for a few days.

Mrs. Harding Receives

Women Delegates

Mrs. David T. Dana and Mrs. Brown of New Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Brown, of New Mrs. John R. Drexel jr. ent

At the Waldorf
To Help Farm

East Side Settlement Club
Gives Novel Entertainment With Women of Society in Costumes

Miss Barnard To Be Bride

Street Fair in Aid of Crippled Children Will Show Work of American Artists

A delightful entertainment called the "East Side Frolic of 1922" was

At the Waldorf

Art in the Street Fair
A splendid collection of the work of American artists will be one of the features of the Street Fair scheduled to take place the third week in May for the Association for the Aid of Crippled Children. Mrs. Walter Sullivan, chairman of the art committee, has announced the membership committee as follows: Mrs. John French, Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mrs. Lyman Rhoades, Mrs. James Gamble Rogers, Mrs. James Gamble Rogers, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Albin Swenson, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Mrs. Frederick T. Van Beuren jr. Mrs. Edward E. Loomis, Mrs. David Keppel, Mrs. Russell Leffingwell, Mrs. George Woolsey, Mrs. Edward Bayne, Mrs. Arthur B. Duel, Mrs. Charles R. Swords, Mrs. Daniel C. French, E. H. Blashfield and Grosvenor Atterbury.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Albert of a street singer, accompanied by two wandering minstrels. William Kent, of "Good Morning Dearie," danced, others who took part in the cabaret were Miss Julia Shanley and Miss Marie Lewis F. Harder gave a small luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Plaza for her mother, Mrs. John F. Harris, of Tuxedo Park, who is staying at the hotel.

ander Brown entertained at luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler

They were among the many prominent New Yorkers who sailed for Europe yesterday on the Arabic. Mrs. Chanler formerly was Mrs. J.

WASHINGTON, April 25. Mrs. Harding practically kept open house this afternoon at the White House her niece, Miss Antoinette Ene Graves, through visits to the Converse home the Paris for an indefinite stay in France. They expect to spend a part of the summer on the coast of Nor-mandy, where Mrs. DeWolf has a cot-Women Delegates tage

Rides and Drives Lure

By Royal Cortissoz

It is an amazingly diversified body of objects that has been brought together this week at the American Art Galleries. One collection after another is set forth, a vast amount of space being filled with everything from tapestries to prints. The most miscellaneous of these groups is the first, which was formed largely by the late Archduke Ludwig Victor of Austria. He died in 1919. In 1920 his collection passed by purchase into the hands of Señor Sageseta, of Madrid. Adding a number of pieces, he now sends it to be dispersed in New York.

The tapestries embrace some excellent verdure pieces and a notably decorative set of early eighteenth century Gobelins, designed by Berain. They form the most conspicuous single feature in the mass. After them we would place the velvets and brocades. There are some magnificent Italian and French mantles, such as Nos. 232 and 246, the latter a glorious expanse of seventeenth century blue. In nurely seventeenth century blue, in nurely seventeenth century blue. In nurely seventeenth century blue, in nurely seventeenth century blue. In nurely seventeenth century blue and seventeent section of seventeenth century seventeenth century seventeenth century

French mantles, such as Nos. 232 and 246, the latter a glorious expanse of seventeenth century blue. In purely decorative materials of this order the collection is very rich. Belonging well into the foreground are a number of early doors. The most gorgeous are doubtless the two panels of seventeenth century Italian origin (No. 341), richly carved and embellished in gold and blue, but they are really surpassed by some of the Spanish and other doors in unpainted wood.

Spanish Cloister Cettle.

Spanish Cloister Grille

Spanish Cloister Grille
There is one beautiful work in wrought metal, the Spanish cloister grille (No. 342), which dates from the sixteenth century. It is a specimen of the sort of thing in the exhibition which will interest architects. But the bulk of the stuff is addressed to the collector pure and simple, especially the furniture. The old cabinets and collector pure and simple, especially the summer on the coast of Norty, where Mrs. DeWolf has a cotty, which extend the catalogue to 365 are more and simple the carlier Northern schools, are of no great consequence. All these things, which extend the catalogue to 365 are made or which will be sold next Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Special Dispatch to The Tribuse

T SPRINGS, Va., April 25.—Tem.

Special Dispatch to The Tribuse

T SPRINGS, Va., April 25.—Tem.

Formerly Property of the Late Archduke of Austria

Red Cross Will Benefit

Paintings by Foreigners and A mericans Will Aid

Interference
Representatives of organizations and screen met yesterday at the headquarters of the Anthors' League, 22 East Seventeenth Street, to discuss plans designed to repeal motion picture censorship laws now in effect in New York and to prevent the adoption of such laws in other states.

Jesse Lynch Williams, president of two grandchildren.

Lown council in 1825.

Funeral services will be held at the Grace Van Vorst Protestant Episoopal Church. Eric and Second streets, Jersel in New York and to prevent the adoption of such laws in other states.

Jesse Lynch Williams, president of two grandchildren.

the New York Chapter

By Royal Cortissoz

It is an amazingly diversified body of jects that has been brought together.

eighty-four years old, was a native of Bloomsburg, Pa., and a graduate of Lafayette and Union colleges. He founded a mission church for the Epis-

MAXWELL

MILLER

BUCHANAN On Sunday night, April 22, 1922, at the Peck Memorial Hospital,

RASMUSSEN

UNDERTAKERS

d St. Jerome or Lexington Sul Book of views or Representative Telephone Woodlawn 1109.

Variety of Objects Includes
18th Century Gobelins,
Formerly Property of the Late Archduke of Austria

Red Cross Will Benefit

Will Demand Repeal
Of Picture Censorship

Authors, Artists and Craftsmen
Organize Against Political
Interference
Representatives of organizations and interference and with the stage and screen met yesterday at the herdquarters of the Authors' League, 22 Fast for Street Against Political Constructions and the property of the late Smith Mead and Hannah Kissam, died Monday night at her how sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of its following a prolonged illness. She was sixty-eight years old. Her grandfather was Joseph Kissam, one of the early settlers of Harsimus, now a part of Jersey City, and president of Jersey City, and president of the late of the late of the property of the late of the late of the lat

may be telephoned to The Tribune

WALSH On April 23, John D. Walsh beloved husband of Mary R. Walsh (nes Leonard), and father of Genevisve, Mar-tin, Rose and Raymond and brother of Mrs. J. McGuire and Myrtha Walsh Funeral from his late residence.

WATERMAN - Grace Hampson, a wife of Marcus B. Waterman and of Jeremiah and Adelaide Wat suddenly on Sunday, April 22, Funeral private, Interment. A N. Y.

WHALEN On April 24, Mrs. Margarg Whalen. Funeral Wednesday morning April 26, from the residence of her siz-ter, Neille Kennedy. 225 East 1224 st. thence to Church of the Holy Rosary East 118th st. 19 a. m. Automobil-cortege.

When Death Occurs "The Juneral Church"inc.

IN MEMORIAM

THE WOODLAWN CEMETERY

BALDWIN-CARROLL Of pneumonia on Monday, April 24 after a long likess. Shyl Lambard, widow of the late Henry Porter Baldwin, of Detroit, Mich., at her residence. 31 East 42th at. Funeral services at St. John's Church, Detroit on Thursday, April 27, at 3 o'clock at her late residence, 248 Academy so dersey city, Mary A. Valleau wire of Theodore B. Valleau and daughter of the late Smith Mead and Hannah Kis-sam, age 68. Funeral services at Gran-Van Vorst Protestant Episcopal Church Late and 2nd sts. Jersey City, Thursday, April 27, at 3 p. m. WAISH On Assistance

PHASBURY-

Call Columbus $200 FRANK E. CAMPBELL Broadway at 66th St.